Collaborative Political Network

Northwestern University Science Policy and Action Network

NUSPAN aims to:

- Foster interdisciplinary dialogue among students about current energy and environmental science and policy issues,
- Promote the pursuit of scientific and environmental responsibility,
- Heighten science policy awareness in the Northwestern and Chicagoland community.

2013 – 2014 Project Accomplishments:

- Built sustainable connections with The Scholar Strategy Network, The Union of Concerned Scientists, The Institute for Policy Research, and The Medill School of Journalism
- Hosted four speakers addressing social entrepreneurship in environmentalism, political ramifications of partisan voting, and communication of science in politicized environments
- Organized half-day workshop on science communication to congressmen and lobbyists for Ph.D. scientists
