A collaborative and interdisciplinary student-led initiative to expand and develop Northwestern University’s commitment to energy efficiency and sustainability

Collaboration
- We bring multidisciplinary speakers to campus.
- Past speakers include a US Congressman and New York Times climate journalist.
- In 2015 we brought documentary filmmaker Sandy Cioffi.

Education
- We organize and run the Business of Energy and Technology of Energy Seminar Series.
- These student-led seminars are open to any NU student and led by PhD and Kellogg graduate students.

Engagement
- NESC leaders are engaged cross-disciplinary members of the Energy and Sustainability community.
- We build community through Roundtable Lunches with other student leaders and Mixed Greens social events.
