✓ AIRLINE TRAVEL

	Book all travel through NU travel services, regardless of whether airfare can be found more cheaply elsewhere. Northwestern University uses Egencia to book travel. Please contact Amanda (amanda.mahoney@northwestern.edu) to help get you set up in the Egencia system so that he can book travel for you. This will ensure that you do not end up holding the tab for expensive airfare (NU travel charges airfare to the chartstring that funds you): http://www.northwestern.edu/auxiliary-services/travel/index.html

	International airline tickets (i.e. non-American) are not reimbursable expenses on sponsored* accounts

Travel Information for ANSER Center members

- When planning and booking your trip:
 - Make sure to use the checklist above through all stages of the travel process.
 - Please purchase all travel tickets through NU Travel. Why?
 - Federal regulations surrounding what kinds of tickets are and are not reimbursable are, in conjunction with the ongoing globalization of airline and other travel consortiums, complex enough that whether a travel expense is reimbursable is now something that ASRSP can only determine on a case by case basis, when they receive your receipts. This means that if you purchase tickets on your own, you may not be reimbursed for them.
 - NU Travel is equipped to navigate all regulatory and purchasing issues.
 - NU Travel will charge your funding chartstring directly, so you will never be responsible for bearing the cost of your tickets.
 - Although cost-saving practices are good in principle, in this case it is more important to ensure that NU pays for your travel; even if you find a cheaper ticket elsewhere, buy through NU Travel.
- When submitting your expenses to the ANSER CENTER:
 - Assemble all receipts and make photocopies for your own files.
 - Submit all receipt originals for each trip to Amanda (Amanda.mahoney@northwestern.edu)
 - If a receipt is missing, fill out an expense exception report: http://www.northwestern.edu/financial-operations/policies-procedures/forms/policy_exception.pdf
 - Please note that filling out an exception report does not guarantee that an expense with a missing receipt will be reimbursed. It provides an explanation for why the receipt is missing, which will then help Accounts Payable/ASRSP to determine whether to reimburse you for the expense.
 - Please sign your expense report ASAP once Amanda has prepared it so that there are no delays in processing your reimbursement.
 - If you attended a conference to give a talk or present posters please include a conference schedule that shows your participation.
- Important information/terms to know:
 - What is a “sponsored” grant/project?
 - A sponsored project is a transaction in which there is a specific statement of work with a related, reciprocal transfer of something of value. Any funding provided by U.S. government agencies, at the federal, state, or local level is treated as sponsored project funding. Funding from voluntary health organizations or associations is usually treated as a sponsored project.
 - What is a “reasonable” cost for breakfast/lunch?
 - Reasonable cost depends on the location, currency exchange, etc. Ten dollars or less is the average, but there are exceptions. Please use your judgment.
